INTERNATIONAL COURT OF JUSTICE IS ESTABLISHED

BY LEAGUE OF NATIONS BY ELECTING ELEVEN JUDGES AND FOUR DEPUTIES

JOHN BASSETT MOORE, OF WASHINGTON, ELECTED ONE OF THE JUDGES

(By United Press)
Geneva, Sept. 14.—The world's fifty year dream of an international court of justice became a reality today when the league of nations elected eleven judges and four deputies to a world court.

John Bassett Moore, of the United States, member of a prominent court at The Hague, was elected by the assembly on the second ballot this afternoon. On the first ballot nine judges were chosen.

There was the keenest political "log rolling" for the positions, the South American countries being strong in number and holding the balance of power in many instances.

Many delegates today declared the establishment of an international court of justice would be far and away the most important undertaking of the league of nations.

On the ballot today Elihu Root received the vote of six nations. John B. Moore received twelve votes on the first ballot. Dr. Roscoe Pound, dean of Harvard law school, six, and Sir Robert Borden, former president of Canada, twelve votes.

The council of the assembly of the league voted separately.

Dublin, Sept. 14.—Members of the Dail Eireann who came from private sessions this forenoon wore serious faces, and the report spread that the outlook was "unfavorable."

The return of the carriers, Harry Boland and Joseph McGrath, had been anxiously awaited. An air of mystery over the entire proceedings with the public kept in ignorance as to what was about to happen dispelled the optimism that had been persistently felt here.

A report from London that De Valera's reply would be published tonight, left the public wondering whether this referred to the conversations between the Dail carriers and Lloyd George, at Gairloch, or to a new note which was in course of preparation.

IRISH NOTE NOT TO BE MADE PUBLIC TONIGHT

(By United Press.)
London, Sept. 14.—Mystery surrounding the Irish situation deepened today when the British government's announcement that a communication from the Dail Eireann would be made public at 7 p. m. suddenly changed its plans and announced the note would not be given out tonight.

ARBUCKLE IS INDICTED FOR MANSLAUGHTER

GRAND JURY AT SECOND SESSION ACCUSES ACTOR OF LESSER CRIME

(By United Press)

San Francisco, Sept. 14.—Roscoe Arbuckle was indicted by the San Francisco grand jury early today on a charge of manslaughter.

Dismissal of murder charges originally filed against him is expected to result from this indictment on a lesser charge.

His attorneys are preparing to attempt to secure his release on bail.

Arbuckle is accused of causing the death of Virginia Rappe, motion picture actress, whom he is alleged to have assaulted during a "booze party" in his suite at the fashionable St. Francis hotel on Labor Day.

Under the murder complaint Arbuckle was accused of killing Miss Virginia Rappe "with malice aforethought."

The manslaughter indictment absolves him of the premeditation charges but charges him with "committing a felony to-wit, manslaughter."

"The said Arbuckle did wilfully, unlawfully, feloniously and without malice or forethought kill one Virginia Rappe, a human being," the indictment said.

The grand jury by a vote of twelve to two voted the manslaughter indictment at its second session on the Arbuckle case.

Witness Approached
"One of the girl witnesses in the Arbuckle case has admitted to me that she was approached by friends of Arbuckle with regard to her testimony," Captain of Detectives Duncan Matheson declared today. Matheson refused to say who the witness was or to give any details.

"To do so would endanger a possible arrest," he explained.

INTERNATIONAL COURT OF JUSTICE IS ESTABLISHED

BY LEAGUE OF NATIONS BY ELECTING ELEVEN JUDGES AND FOUR DEPUTIES

JOHN BASSETT MOORE, OF WASHINGTON, ELECTED ONE OF THE JUDGES

(By United Press)
Geneva, Sept. 14.—The world's fifty year dream of an international court of justice became a reality today when the league of nations elected eleven judges and four deputies to a world court.

John Bassett Moore, of the United States, member of a prominent court at The Hague, was elected by the assembly on the second ballot this afternoon. On the first ballot nine judges were chosen.

There was the keenest political "log rolling" for the positions, the South American countries being strong in number and holding the balance of power in many instances.

Many delegates today declared the establishment of an international court of justice would be far and away the most important undertaking of the league of nations.

On the ballot today Elihu Root received the vote of six nations. John B. Moore received twelve votes on the first ballot. Dr. Roscoe Pound, dean of Harvard law school, six, and Sir Robert Borden, former president of Canada, twelve votes.

The council of the assembly of the league voted separately.

Swiss Elected
Dr. Max Huber, of Switzerland, was elected a justice of the court on the fifth ballot. Huber is legal adviser of the Swiss foreign office and professor of law at the University of Zurich.

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Sept. 14.—"You're the champion of them all," Young Fisher, a fighter of Syracuse, N. Y., told Mike Gibbons at the end of a ten round bout last night. "I will tell the world he is," he added, turning to the announcer.

It was the first time a fighter ever conceded defeat after staying the time limit in the ring. Young's real name is Chas. Fabio.

Gibbons piled up enough points to determine a decision. The bout had been postponed from Tuesday night on account of a storm.

LANDIS REFUSES REHEARING UNTIL MEN GO TO WORK

(By United Press)
Chicago, Sept. 14.—Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis started a building boom today—he drove building trade mechanics and laborers back to work after a strike of months.

Work on millions of dollars worth of contracts started when Landis, who acted as mediator in a labor war between contractors and employees, said he would not grant a re-hearing of the case of the employees if they did not start to work. A week ago Judge Landis ordered a wage reduction. Threats of employers to establish the "open shop" also influenced the men, it was said.

OUTLOOK REPORTED 'UNFAVORABLE' FOR BRITISH-IRISH PEACE

DAIL EIREANN MEMBERS WEAR GLOOMY FACES AFTER ATTEND-ING PRIVATE SESSIONS

(By United Press)
Dublin, Sept. 14.—Members of the Dail Eireann who came from private sessions this forenoon wore serious faces, and the report spread that the outlook was "unfavorable."

The return of the carriers, Harry Boland and Joseph McGrath, had been anxiously awaited. An air of mystery over the entire proceedings with the public kept in ignorance as to what was about to happen dispelled the optimism that had been persistently felt here.

A report from London that De Valera's reply would be published tonight, left the public wondering whether this referred to the conversations between the Dail carriers and Lloyd George, at Gairloch, or to a new note which was in course of preparation.

IRISH NOTE NOT TO BE MADE PUBLIC TONIGHT

(By United Press)
London, Sept. 14.—Mystery surrounding the Irish situation deepened today when the British government's announcement that a communication from the Dail Eireann would be made public at 7 p. m. suddenly changed its plans and announced the note would not be given out tonight.

A dispatch from Dublin indicated that the communication in question is the reply of the Dail to Premier Lloyd George's invitation to further conferences beginning at Inverness September 20.

The Dublin dispatch said the Sinn Fein parliament had unanimously approved the reply, and appointed a delegation headed by Arthur Griffith, Sinn Fein foreign minister.

ARBUCKLE IS INDICTED FOR MANSLAUGHTER

GRAND JURY AT SECOND SESSION
ACCUSES ACTOR OF LESSER CRIME

(By United Press)
San Francisco, Sept. 14.—Roscoe Arbuckle was indicted by the San Francisco grand jury early today on a charge of manslaughter.

Dismissal of murder charges originally filed against him is expected to result from this indictment on a lesser charge.

His attorneys are preparing to attempt to secure his release on bail.

Arbuckle is accused of causing the death of Virginia Rappe, motion picture actress, whom he is alleged to have assaulted during a "booze party" in his suite at the fashionable St. Francis hotel on Labor Day.

Under the murder complaint Arbuckle was accused of killing Miss Virginia Rappe "with malice aforethought."

The manslaughter indictment absolves him of the premeditation charges but charges him with "committing a felony to-wit, manslaughter."

"The said Arbuckle did wilfully, unlawfully, feloniously and without malice or forethought kill one Virginia Rappe, a human being," the indictment said.

The grand jury by a vote of twelve to two voted the manslaughter indictment at its second session on the Arbuckle case.

Witness Approached

"One of the girl witnesses in the Arbuckle case has admitted to me that she was approached by friends of Arbuckle with regard to her testimony," Captain of Detectives Duncan Matheson declared today. Matheson refused to say who the witness was or to give any details.

"To do so would endanger a possible arrest," he explained.

Matheson said he favors trying Arbuckle for manslaughter instead of for first degree murder.

"Robin Hood"

"Robin Hood," which will be pro-duced at the New Park Theatre Mon-day evening, Sept. 19, is acknowledged to be the greatest masterpiece of comic opera ever written by Ameri-cans. The charm of Reginald de Koven's music is as fresh today as when it was first enjoyed 25 years ago, and the dialogue of Harry B. Smith is as sparkling now as it was then. Like fine old wine, "Robin Hood" seems to improve with age. It has stood the acid test of time because it is a real work of art, and the genius which inspired it should gratify the pride of every American.

Nothing could be more fascinating than the story upon which the opera was founded. The old English tale of Robin Hood and his band of out-laws is a famous one and their merry pranks in Sherwood Forest have fur-nished Sir Walter Scott and other writers with stories that will live as long as our language. Around this celebrated theme was built the de-lightful opera by de Koven and Smith, and in its musical form they have given us a new pleasure that adds zest to the story of the greatest of Eng-land's popular heroes.

"Robin Hood" was by no means an imaginary character. He really ex-isted, and his romantic adventures hap-pened during the reign of Richard Coeur de Leon, the very mention of whose name arouses a thrill. Robin Hood was originally a nobleman, who became an outlaw in revenge for an injustice done him by the authorities. He was extremely popular with the common people, and little wonder, for he only robbed the rich and shared his spoils with the poor. He easily evaded the officers of the law, whose unsuccessful effort to catch him fur-nish much of the humor of the opera. The love scenes between Maid Marian and him are without doubt the most romantic in all comic operas. For this we should be devoutly grateful, for all the world loves a lover, ex-cept, perhaps, his rival.

An opera of such merit as "Robin Hood" demands a singing cast of the highest order, and the coming production fully meets this require-ment, as the principals are all of grand opera calibre.

Heading the cast is Albert Parr as Robert of Huntington (Robin Hood) and Miss Elsa Thiede as Maid Marian. Other popular members of the com-pany are Betty Baxter, who sings Alan-a-Dale. Harry Longstreet sings Little John, Mary Baker is seen as Anabelle, while the part of Will Scar-lett goes to William Degan.

The comedy roles are admirably cared for by Tom Burton as the Sher-iff of Nottingham, Madeline Hartford as the buxom Dame Durdan, and Ru-dolph Kouch as the wily Sir Guy of Gisborne.

The numerous girls in the chorus are not only pretty, but can sing. They are accompanied by handsome, manly men, also with voices.

Guy Spiker's Romance
With Brother's "War
Bride" Goes on Rocks

Baltimore, Sept. 13.—The interna-tional romance of the Spiker brothers and Emily R. Knowles, English "war bride," which created a sensation two years ago when, as the mother of Perley R. Spiker's child, she came to America and wed his brother, Guy Spiker, has gone on the rocks. Mrs. Spiker, who lived with Guy Spiker, here, has disappeared.

The child, adopted by Perley R. Spiker's wife, who forgave both her husband and Emily Knowles, is at their home.

Guy Spiker and the English woman were married in Fall River, Mass., Feb. 8, 1920. She fled from the Spiker home five weeks ago. According to Guy Spiker, leaving a note saying she no longer cared to live with him, he said.

"She went of her own free will," Spiker said, "and she can stay."

Guy Spiker had been out of work for some time and his wife sought em-ployment, it is said. For more than a month, it is understood, she was em-ployed at a military camp.

HATFIELD LEAVES HILLS
FOR A SHANTY BOAT

(By United Press.)

Sisterville, W. Va., Sept. 13.—George Washington Hatfield, brother of "De-vil Anse" Hatfield, of feud-day fame, has become a shanty boater.

Hatfield and his wife, a full-blooded Indian, came here recently from Pike County, Kentucky, and have begun life in a shanty boat on the Ohio side of the river. The trip to Sisterville was made overland in a quaint, dilapidated buggy, drawn by a weary bay horse.

The aged clansman believes he was the father of Sid Hatfield, Mingo Coun-ty chieftain, who was slain in a re-volver fight at Welch last month.

"The Sid Hatfield who was killed at Welch may be and may not be my boy," the grizzled mountaineer said. "Me and Anse both had boys of that name, and I ain't seen Sid in a num-ber of years—not since he helped me out of a tight fix in Carter County, Kentucky.

"I'm a law abidin' citizen, religious, and don't aim to make any fuss, but whenever one of our blood is mur-dered, the murderer must pay."

Hatfield, who is past 76 years old, looked much younger. He was dressed in typical hill-billy fashion, with the exception of a "six-gun."

He said he was living for two things—his rifle, which is over 100 years old, and his violin, which he claims was made in 1314. He is still a crack shot with his old-fashioned weapon.

Employment Decreased

Fargo, Sept. 14.—Employment in North Dakota as compared with popu-lation has decreased 5.7 per cent in the last ten years, according to sta-tistics of the U. S. census bureau.

Approximately 217,418 persons or 37.7 per cent of the population over ten years of age were in gainful oc-cupations in 1910 and only 206,898, or 33 per cent of the population in 1920.

The decrease has affected both male and female workers. Over half of the wage earners are engaged in agricul-tural pursuits; only six tenths of one per cent are miners.

With Brother's "War
Bride" Goes on Rocks

Baltimore, Sept. 13.—The international romance of the Spiker brothers and Emily R. Knowles, English "war bride," which created a sensation two years ago when, as the mother of Perley R. Spiker's child, she came to America and wed his brother, Guy Spiker, has gone on the rocks. Mrs. Spiker, who lived with Guy Spiker, here, has disappeared.

The child, adopted by Perley R. Spiker's wife, who forgave both her husband and Emily Knowles, is at their home.

Guy Spiker and the English woman were married in Fall River, Mass., Feb. 8, 1920. She fled from the Spiker home five weeks ago. According to Guy Spiker, leaving a note saying she no longer cared to live with him, he said.

"She went of her own free will," Spiker said, "and she can stay."

Guy Spiker had been out of work for some time and his wife sought employment, it is said. For more than a month, it is understood, she was employed at a military camp.

HATFIELD LEAVES HILLS
FOR A SHANTY BOAT

(By United Press.)

Sisterville, W. Va., Sept. 13.—George Washington Hatfield, brother of "Devil Anse" Hatfield, of feud-day fame, has become a shanty boater.

Hatfield and his wife, a full-blooded Indian, came here recently from Pike County, Kentucky, and have begun life in a shanty boat on the Ohio side of the river. The trip to Sisterville was made overland in a quaint, dilapidated buggy, drawn by a weary bay horse.

The aged clansman believes he was the father of Sid Hatfield, Mingo County chieftain, who was slain in a revolver fight at Welch last month.

"The Sid Hatfield who was killed at Welch may be and may not be my boy," the grizzled mountaineer said. "Me and Anse both had boys of that name, and I ain't seen Sid in a number of years—not since he helped me out of a tight fix in Carter County, Kentucky."

"I'm a law abidin' citizen, religious, and don't aim to make any fuss, but whenever one of our blood is murdered, the murderer must pay."

Hatfield, who is past 76 years old, looked much younger. He was dressed in typical hill-billy fashion, with the exception of a "six-gun."

He said he was living for two things—his rifle, which is over 100 years old, and his violin, which he claims was made in 1314. He is still a crack shot with his old-fashioned weapon.

Employment Decreased

Fargo, Sept. 14.—Employment in North Dakota as compared with population has decreased 5.7 per cent in the last ten years, according to statistics of the U. S. census bureau.

Approximately 217,418 persons or 37.7 per cent of the population over ten years of age were in gainful occupations in 1910 and only 206,898, or 33 per cent of the population in 1920.

The decrease has affected both male and female workers. Over half of the wage earners are engaged in agricultural pursuits; only six tenths of one per cent are miners.

Mosquitoes Prevent Rice Production. Although rice is the staple diet of the population of Ceylon, it is nearly all imported. Malarial mosquitoes breed so freely in the rice fields that laborers cannot work there.

ROAD BUILDING TO CUT UNEMPLOYMENT

Highway Departments of Progressive States Unite to Avert Forced Idleness

LOCAL CO-OPERATION IS ASKED

Home Organization and Individuals Urged to Join with Appeals for Favorable Legislation

The Plan
 Popular nation-wide appeal by individual citizens and public organizations to all senators and representatives in congress to vote double the usual appropriation for federal aid.
The Purpose
 Funds available, states will provide large amount of employment, averting possible winter want and suffering in thousands of families, and economically and advantageously advance needed road improvements—making every dollar do double duty.
The Peoples Part
 Individual citizens—men and women—farmers, business and professional men, skilled and other workmen—all can do a public service by writing personal appeals to their representatives in congress as suggested in the accompanying announcement.
 Officers and members of organizations can assist further by securing adoption of resolutions of similar import and forwarding them to representatives in Washington.

Toward providing work for thousands of men now idle and whose families otherwise may suffer from want next winter, and at the same time to make needed public road improvements, men and women and various organizations in this and every other locality in the United States are urged to give support to a national movement started this week by the highway officials of the several states and endorsed by citizens appreciating the present unemployment conditions. Every dollar to serve a dual purpose in reducing unemployment and speeding development of adequate highways, the aim is to prevail upon congress to vote in the emergency a double appropriation of federal highway aid for 1921 and to make it available without further delay.

Hoover Attacks Problem
 Charles M. Babcock, state highway commissioner, is making the appeal for general public co-operation in Minnesota toward averting a possible serious unemployment crisis during the winter. The campaign follows suggestions on the general subject by Secretary Herbert C. Hoover of the department of commerce whom President Harding recently directed to call a national conference to devise relief measures and remedies. Highway commissioners of other states, as public officials, are acting in like capacities.

"The public is looking to state and other departments to take the lead in this important matter," said Commissioner Babcock, "and because much road work can be done economically and advantageously during cold weather, the highway officials of the several states are uniting to do their part.

To Aid Many Families

"Several hundred men with families can be employed on Minnesota highway work this fall and winter if funds are made available. The highway department already had laid out plans to that end with expectations that the usual $2,840,000 allotment of federal aid for 1921 would be forthcoming and that it would be allowed to anticipate collections of state funds.

"Then came advices from Washington that in spite of the unemployment situation and the need of highway improvements adapted to winter construction, a 25 per cent reduction in the federal aid appropriation was prepared.

Public Co-operation Wanted

"Full realization of the possibilities for providing jobs for men, preventing suffering among women and children, and making road improvements, which are actual necessities," he added, "will result, we believe, in doubling federal aid to meet this emergency and to that end public co-operation is invited."

The official plan, as outlined by Commissioner Babcock, is for every man and woman, both individually and through organizations, to appeal to senators and representatives from their states to lend their offices and influence to obtain the double appropriation of highway funds.

Minnesota Vitrally Interested

Individuals need only write short letters referring to the number of unemployed men and their observations and endorse the proposal to double the appropriation toward relieving conditions. It is rated especially important in Minnesota where lumbering, the main winter-season industry, may be at a standstill this coming season.

Commercial, labor and other organizations may assist, the commissioner said, by adopting and forwarding to Washington representatives resolutions in proper form.

"Flood" Date Suggested

With the support of Minnesota newspapers, the appeal will meet a hearty response, the commissioner predicted. He mentioned a proposal to time all petitions to reach Washington during the last three days in September, just after the recess in congress. A flood of appeals arriving during that brief period, it was pointed out, will demonstrate that the war-time spirit in America continues and that public welfare matters are the business of a great percentage of citizens, both men and women.

HAS BEAUTIFUL LAKE HOME

Dr. H. W. Sweeney of Eldora, Iowa, Has Spent Vacations at Emely the Past 20 Years

Dr. H. W. Sweeney, of Eldora, Ia., was at the court house recently, securing hunting and fishing licenses for himself and party. The doctor usually comes to Minnesota about the first of June, and stays until the fall hunting is over, but this year a series of tragical occurrences delayed him, including a disastrous fire. On July 31st, the Wajner theatre, owned by him, burned to the ground with a loss of $100,000.

Dr. Sweeney's summer home on Lake Emely almost within the village of Emely, is considered one of the finest in this part of the country. One enters the spacious grounds through a large cobblestone arch. The house, set in the midst of a grove of native birches, rests on a stone foundation, and is forty feet square. An attractive feature of the large porch is a huge stone fireplace on the front porch, circular in design.

Within the large living room is another fireplace of cobblestones, and a rustic stairway leads to a balcony all around the room. Most unusual is a bridge of birch connecting one side of the balcony with the other.

Dr. Sweeney owns several shooting lodges, one of which was destroyed by fire this year.

Brainerd holds great interest for the doctor, as he has been coming here every season for twenty years. He finds a great improvement within the last year, and feels almost as proud of our new court house as do the local residents.

MR. HARDING AS A MAN-PICKER.

(Minneapolis Journal)

Mr. Harding will certainly go down in history as one of the most efficient of Presidents. And one of the chief factors in his success is his decided knack for picking the right man for the right place, and if need be, persuading the man to take the place. Moreover, having made his selection, Mr. Harding stands loyally and firmly behind his appointee. Team-work is the touchstone of the Administration's achievements.

The first test came in building the Cabinet. Despite the protests of old political allies and various politicians, he built his Cabinet around two strong men, Hughes and Hoover. To each he gave the responsibility and authority, just as he gave them to the other members of his official family.

A later example of this Harding quality was the selection of General Dawes as Director of the Budget. The appointment was made after the two men had come to a full understanding of what was to be done. Dawes is now spoken of as next to Mr. Harding, the most powerful official in Washington. His word on government expenditures goes. A mere bureau chief, he holds the purse strings in firm grasp. He has shaken officialdom in Washington out of its lethargy, and aroused it to the necessity of cutting out waste. His energy and firmness are vitalized by the fact that, as everyone knows, Mr. Harding stands behind him staunchly.

The President approached the Philippine problem with similar sagacity. General Wood was the one man who could get him a thoroughly dependable report of the situation—and he prevailed on Wood to go. Then it appeared that Wood must stay and straighten out the tangle left by the idealistic and impractical policy of the Wilson Administration. So Mr. Harding has made General Wood Governor-General, and persuaded him to retire from the Army, as well as postpone his assumption of the headship of the University of Pennsylvania, in order to attack this difficult and essential task.

And now Mr. Harding has completed the naming of the American delegation to the Armament Conference by adding to his original nominations of Secretary Hughes and Senator Lodge, the names of Elihu Root and Senator Underwood. It would be difficult to improve upon that quartet. Hughes is the premier of the Administration. Lodge is the majority party leader in the Senate and head of the Foreign Relations Committee. Underwood is the minority leader. Root is our greatest and best known international expert.

Mr. Harding did not fall into the error of naming Senator Borah, merely because the Idaho leader started the disarmament movement in Congress, for he knew that Borah, though brilliant and able, is a disorganizer, and therefore a poor negotiator. The president wants results from the Conference and he has made them much more likely by his selection of the American delegates.

He profits, too, by the disastrous results of Mr. Wilson's scheme of being his own negotiator, and elects to remain in the background, where his judgment and influence will not be compromised by actual contact with the proceedings.

LEADS IN ROAD WORK.

The State of Minnesota leads all other states both in mileage of 1921 federal aid highway projects and in total of Class One construction listed in the latest bulletin from the federal department of agriculture through the bureau of public roads. There are 42 federal aid projects in this state, aggregating 545½ miles, the official bulletin shows, and 50 per cent of the total is in Class One, against the next highest figure of 43 per cent credited to California.

New evidence of the favorable progress being made by the Minnesota highway department during the first year under the Babcock plan is given in the government bulletin. The farm to market highway policy is reflected in a showing of a 50 per cent expenditure for gravel-surfaced roads and but 14 per cent for paved roads.

The federal aid projects widely distributed over the Minnesota trunk highway system involves the expenditure of $3,322,247, of which $1,423,450 is government money, according to the bulletin. Official figures on costs per mile show that Minnesota is using $4,490 a mile for surfacing, $1,927 for grading, and $543 for structures, an average total of $6,960 a mile. In Wisconsin the average is $11,700 a mile.

GIVEN BENEFIT OF DOUBT.

Director Forbes of the Veterans' Bureau has directed his subordinates to give the veterans the benefit of the doubt in all cases that are not conclusively proven. It has been the practice heretofore to construe every doubt against the claimant and wear him out by delay. Of course it is quite likely that in many cases the government will be imposed upon, but the frauds will probably be detected and corrected. Every veteran soldier or sailor owes it to himself and his honest comrades as well as to the government to report any case of fraud that may come to his attention. That duty is particularly binding since the government has adopted such a liberal policy. Only thus can the government be justified in its policy.

TO RELIEVE UNEMPLOYED

The state highway commissioner has issued a statement asking for the active co-operation of the public-spirited men and women of Minnesota in a nation-wide movement to relieve the unemployment situation. They are requested, individually and through organizations, to petition their representatives in congress to double the 1921 federal highway aid appropriation to enable the state departments to enlarge plans toward employing maximum numbers of workmen and prevent a winter of want for their families. Mr. Babcock says much road work can be done with economy and to advantage during cold weather.

POSTMASTERS TO HELP TOURISTS

By a recent order of Postmaster General Hays, postmasters will be expected to post themselves on the best fishing in their vicinity, the location of golf clubs and other information of interest to tourists. The information bureau of the department at Washington has proved so successful that the Postmaster General contemplates extending the service. Either the local postmaster or some delegated employee would help tourists, according to the order.

In a recent speech at a "get-together" meeting of labor leaders, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, illustrating that the history of the labor movement is charted by a series of ups and downs, said the chart, if brought up to date, would show that the Federation has lost 150,000 dues paying members from its peak reached in 1920.

The Navy Department, it is claimed, has completed a survey of all its activities and put into effect economies which will aggregate many millions of dollars in annual operating expenses.

The St. Cloud Times has discovered and makes public the information that "two pints make a quart unless they're moonshine, and then they make a fight."

"Bathing alone will not keep you clean," says a writer, whereupon the Boston Transcript gloomily adds: "Distressing news this for people having only ordinary-sized bath tubs."

MR. HARDING AS A MAN-PICKER.

(Minneapolis Journal)

Mr. Harding will certainly go down in history as one of the most efficient of Presidents. And one of the chief factors in his success is his decided knack for picking the right man for the right place, and if need be, persuading the man to take the place. Moreover, having made his selection, Mr. Harding stands loyally and firmly behind his appointee. Team-work is the touchstone of the Administration's achievements.

The first test came in building the Cabinet. Despite the protests of old political allies and various politicians, he built his Cabinet around two strong men, Hughes and Hoover. To each he gave the responsibility and authority, just as he gave them to the other members of his official family.

A later example of this Harding quality was the selection of General Dawes as Director of the Budget. The appointment was made after the two men had come to a full understanding of what was to be done. Dawes is now spoken of as next to Mr. Harding, the most powerful official in Washington. His word on government expenditures goes. A mere bureau chief, he holds the purse strings in firm grasp. He has shaken officialdom in Washington out of its lethargy, and aroused it to the necessity of cutting out waste. His energy and firmness are vitalized by the fact that, as everyone knows, Mr. Harding stands behind him staunchly.

The President approached the Philippine problem with similar sagacity. General Wood was the one man who could get him a thoroughly dependable report of the situation—and he prevailed on Wood to go. Then it appeared that Wood must stay and straighten out the tangle left by the idealistic and impractical policy of the Wilson Administration. So Mr. Harding has made General Wood Governor-General, and persuaded him to retire from the Army, as well as postpone his assumption of the headship of the University of Pennsylvania, in order to attack this difficult and essential task.

And now Mr. Harding has completed the naming of the American delegation to the Armament Conference by adding to his original nominations of Secretary Hughes and Senator Lodge, the names of Elihu Root and Senator Underwood. It would be difficult to improve upon that quartet. Hughes is the premier of the Administration. Lodge is the majority party leader in the Senate and head of the Foreign Relations Committee. Underwood is the minority leader. Root is our greatest and best known international expert.

Mr. Harding did not fall into the error of naming Senator Borah, merely because the Idaho leader started the disarmament movement in Congress, for he knew that Borah, though brilliant and able, is a disorganizer and therefore a poor negotiator. The president wants results from the Conference and he has made them much more likely by his selection of the American delegates.

He profits, too, by the disastrous results of Mr. Wilson's scheme of being his own negotiator, and elects to remain in the background, where his judgment and influence will not be compromised by actual contact with the proceedings.

LEADS IN ROAD WORK.

The State of Minnesota leads all other states both in mileage of 1921 federal aid highway projects and in total of Class One construction listed in the latest bulletin from the federal department of agriculture through the bureau of public roads. There are 42 federal aid projects in this state, aggregating 545½ miles, the official bulletin shows, and 50 per cent of the total is in Class One, against the next highest figure of 43 per cent credited to California.

New evidence of the favorable progress being made by the Minnesota highway department during the first year under the Babcock plan is given in the government bulletin. The farm to market highway policy is reflected in a showing of a 50 per cent expenditure for gravel-surfaced roads and but 14 per cent for paved roads.

The federal aid projects widely distributed over the Minnesota trunk highway system involves the expenditure of $3,322,247, of which $1,423,450 is government money, according to the bulletin. Official figures on costs per mile show that Minnesota is using $4,490 a mile for surfacing, $1,927 for grading, and $543 for structures, an average total of $6,960 a mile. In Wisconsin the average is $11,700 a mile.

GIVEN BENEFIT OF DOUBT.

Director Forbes of the Veterans' Bureau has directed his subordinates to give the veterans the benefit of the doubt in all cases that are not conclusively proven. It has been the practice heretofore to construe every doubt against the claimant and wear him out by delay. Of course it is quite likely that in many cases the government will be imposed upon, but the frauds will probably be detected and corrected. Every veteran soldier or sailor owes it to himself and his honest comrades as well as to the government to report any case of fraud that may come to his attention. That duty is particularly binding since the government has adopted such a liberal policy. Only thus can the government be justified in its policy.

TO RELIEVE UNEMPLOYED

The state highway commissioner has issued a statement asking for the active co-operation of the public-spirited men and women of Minnesota in a nation-wide movement to relieve the unemployment situation. They are requested, individually and through organizations, to petition their representatives in congress to double the 1921 federal highway aid appropriation to enable the state departments to enlarge plans toward employing maximum numbers of workmen and prevent a winter of want for their families. Mr. Babcock says much road work can be done with economy and to advantage during cold weather.

POSTMASTERS TO HELP TOURISTS

By a recent order of Postmaster General Hays, postmasters will be expected to post themselves on the best fishing in their vicinity, the location of golf clubs and other information of interest to tourists. The information bureau of the department at Washington has proved so successful that the Postmaster General contemplates extending the service. Either the local postmaster or some delegated employee would help tourists, according to the order.

In a recent speech at a "get-together" meeting of labor leaders, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, illustrating that the history of the labor movement is charted by a series of ups and downs, said the chart, if brought up to date, would show that the Federation has lost 150,000 dues paying members from its peak reached in 1920.

The Navy Department, it is claimed, has completed a survey of all its activities and put into effect economies which will aggregate many millions of dollars in annual operating expenses.

The St. Cloud Times has discovered and makes public the information that "two pints make a quart unless they're moonshine, and then they make a fight."

"Bathing alone will not keep you clean," says a writer, whereupon the Boston Transcript gloomily adds: "Distressing news this for people having only ordinary-sized bath tubs."

RUSS FOOD MARTS

TRADE IN MILLIONS

40,000 RUBLES WORTH ONE AMERICAN DOLLAR—SMALL CHICK—EN COSTS 20,000

Moscow, Sept. 13.—Billions in paper rubles change hands daily at Moscow's several food markets where gather peasants, officials, speculators and the unclassified bourgeoisie to exchange the things they have for the things they have not, and to effect a living by the transactions. The markets usually are in open squares where the sellers range themselves in rows, either squatting on the ground behind their goods or displaying them on wooden tables, while purchasers or other peddlers stream past, inspecting the proffered articles either by pinch or smell, sampling by taste being tabooed.

The Petrovka market is typically Russian. Looking at the meats, for all the meat stalls are arranged side by side, the single word "skolko" meaning how much—will elicit prices running high into the thousands, but low when considered in western exchange.

40,000 Rubles to Dollar.

Meat is sold by the funt, which is nine-tenths of a pound, and 40,000 rubles are worth about one American dollar. Salt pork sells for from 28,000 to 30,000 rubles a funt, or 70 to 84 cents a pound. Roast pork and ham costs 35,000 rubles a funt, or 98 cents. Lamb chops and beef cost 9,000 rubles or 25 cents. A broiler weighing a pound and a half costs 20,000 rubles or 55 cents, while an older chicken, weighing three pounds, or a four pound duck could be bought for 35,000 rubles or $1.

The prices are practically fixed, although there might be a slight difference in prices between markets.

Butter Up to 78 Cents a Pound.

Butter sells for from 26,000 to 28,000 rubles a funt, or 72 to 78 cents—a very high price in Russia, which before the war and blockade, not only supplied itself with butter at 12½ cents a pound, but exported great quantities. Cheese sells from 23,000 to 25,000 rubles, or 65 to 70 cents. Skimmed milk brings 3,000 rubles a krushka, a little less than a pint. At this rate milk sells for 20 cents a quart. Eggs are the least expensive, selling from 10,000 rubles for 10—in Russia eggs are sold by the tens and not by the dozen. This is equivalent to 30 cents a dozen.

The Russians eat more fish than either meat or eggs. At the fish stalls herrings appear to be the most important article of food, and sell from 1,500 rubles for small ones, to 7,000 for the larger, or from 4½ to 17 cents each. Smoked salmon and sturgeon averaged about 20,000 rubles or 55 cents.

Cereal Prices High.

The prices of cereals and grains are high, as the shortage of grain makes for high priced bread. Rye flour averages 4,000 rubles a funt or 11 cents a pound. White flour sells as high as 8,444 rubles a funt or 25 cents; barley, 6,000, or 18 cents; rice, 7,000 to 8,500, or 19 to 25 cents; farina, 10,000, or 28 cents; oatmeal, 6,000, or 18 cents. Beans, probably because there are more of them, sell for 2,000 rubles a funt, or 5 cents a pound.

Sugar is another important necessity in Russia today and sometimes it cannot be found on the market at any price. The little there is sells at from 22,000 to 23,000 rubles a funt, or from 61 to 65 cents a pound for granulated and 30,000 rubles a funt, or 83 cents a pound for lump.

Dam Not Built by Experts.

The failure of the dam which caused the famous Johnstown flood, May 31, 1889, was due to defects of construction, explained by the fact that no engineer was employed in designing or building the dam.

Minnesota State Fair Head-on Collision at Lyceum Tonight and Thursday

Brainerd people who did not get a chance to see the thrilling head-on collision of locomotives at the state fair last week will not lose out, as the big event is to be shown at the Lyceum tonight and Thursday. The first pictures of the ZR-2 air ship disaster will also be shown, actual scenes taken of the wreck in the river at Hull, England.

At the Lyceum Theatre

Ora Carew, widely known as a film star, dancer and musician, probably will be equally well known as a darling equestrienne, through her acting in Metro's picture, "The Little Fool," adapted from the great Jack London story, "The Little Lady of the Big House," now showing at the Lyceum theatre.

For audacious Miss Carew succeeded in diving a horse from a twenty-five foot cliff into a pool of water at ter a half a dozen horsemen had insisted that it couldn't be done. It was necessary to try three horses before one could be found whose nerve would equal that of the fair Ora.

Other members of the cast include Milton Sills, Nigel Barrie, Helen Howard, Marjorie Prevost, Iva Forrester and Byron Munson.

The announcement of Tom Mix coming means there will be packed houses at the Lyceum Friday and Saturday. He will appear this time in "The Night Horseman," his very latest western picture. "Fighting Pat," a new chapter play with Wm. Dunne is to be shown on the same days.

Fans Have Treat in "Sting of the Lash"

Pauline Frederick's new starring vehicle "The Sting of the Lash," is a ninety-horse-power drama with a vigorous punch in every reel and local film devotees are promised a treat when it is screened at the New Park theatre today and tomorrow.

It is a story wherein the true nobility of womanhood is depicted and in its development every shade of human emotion is touched upon. Pauline Frederick as the wife whose undying devotion to her husband is the keynote of the story paints a portrait that is dominant and unforgettable.

Not only is "The Sting of the Lash" interesting because of its engrossing story but because the atmosphere with which it is invested teems with the spirit of the open country. Many of the scenes are "shots" taken in the High Sierras, affording many beautiful backgrounds.

But it is the story itself that commands attention. Miss Frederick as the wife appears first in the part of a smart society woman surrounded by wealth. Then the scene shifts abruptly to the west. Her fortunes change. She is married and her husband is a shiftless good-for-nothing. Yet her undying devotion to him keeps her from fleeing from their home. She goes down into the depths with him, fighting every step of the way to reclaim him but the fate is against her—temporarily.

She tolerates all his neglect and mistreatment until he strikes his little sister who lives with the couple. The sight of this attack lights all the fury in the torn and twisted heart of the slaving wife. Her rage knows no bounds. She seizes a pistol and backs the husband against the wall in their rude log cabin. Then she makes the sister tie his hands with rope and the fine is thrown over a beam in the ceiling. Keeping the cowering man covered with the gun she slowly hauls him up by the wrists until his toes are off the floor and he is helpless. Then she takes a whip—a mule skinners whip—and lashes him with might and main until big red welts appear across his back and shoulders.

and he is beaten to the point of exhaustion. She then cuts him down and, womanlike, is remorseful. She bathes the wounds that mark his neck and shoulders.

This marks the big climax of the play but many complications follow and interest is well sustained until the end when smiles of happiness creep through the haze of tears.

A splendid cast supports Miss Frederick. Clyde Fillmore, well known on the stage and screen, interprets the role of the husband with great skill while Edwin Stevens, Lionel Belmore, Lawson Butt, Jack Richardson, Evelyn McCoy and others also appear.

BURIED PIRATE GOLD REPORTED FOUND; PEOPLE IN FURORE

New Orleans, Sept. 13.—Part of the supposed buried treasure of Jean Lafitte, the pirate, has been found in the vicinity of Jefferson island, the home of the late Joseph Jefferson, and excitement in that neighborhood is at fever pitch, according to reports from the south Louisiana coast.

Evidence of the treasure is furnished by several gold coins of ancient date which have recently found their way into circulation on the island, two of them being of 1754 date. According to reports, two pots of buried gold were found, but such a furore was caused when the gold appeared that the treasure finders have been silent on the discovery.

According to legends handed down from generation to generation, large sums were buried in the neighborhood by Lafitte, who preyed on gulf and river shipping in the 18th century.

The announcement of Tom Mix coming means there will be packed houses at the Lyceum Friday and Saturday. He will appear, this time in "The Night Horseman," his very latest western picture. "Fighting Pat," a new chapter play with Wm. Duncan is to be shown on the same days.

Fans Have Treat in "Sting of the Lash"

Pauline Frederick's new starring vehicle "The Sting of the Lash," is a ninety-horse-power drama with a vigorous punch in every reel and local film devotees are promised a treat when it is screened at the New Park theatre today and tomorrow.

It is a story wherein the true nobility of womanhood is depicted and in its development every shade of human emotion is touched upon. Pauline Frederick as the wife whose undying devotion to her husband is the keynote of the story paints a portrait that is dominant and unforgettable. Not only is "The Sting of the Lash" interesting because of its engrossing story but because the atmosphere with which it is invested teems with the spirit of the open country. Many of the scenes are "shots" taken in the High Sierras, affording many beautiful backgrounds.

But it is the story itself that commands attention. Miss Frederick as the wife appears first in the part of a smart society woman surrounded by wealth. Then the scene shifts abruptly to the west. Her fortunes change. She is married and her husband is a shiftless good-for-nothing. Yet her undying devotion to him keeps her from fleeing from their home. She goes down into the depths with him, fighting every step of the way to reclaim him but the fates are against her—temporarily.

She tolerates all his neglect and mistreatment until he strikes his little sister who lives with the couple. The sight of this attack lights all the fury in the torn and twisted heart of the alaving wife. Her rage knows no bounds. She seizes a pistol and backs the husband against the wall in their rude log cabin. Then she makes the sister tie his hands with rope and the fine is thrown over a beam in the ceiling. Keeping the covering man covered with the gun the wife slowly hauls him up by the wrists until his toes are off the floor and he is helpless. Then she takes a whip—a mule skinners whip—and lashes him with might and main until big red welts appear across his back and shoulders and he is beaten to the point of exhaustion. She then cuts him down and, womanlike, is remorseful. She bathes the wounds that mark his neck and shoulders.

This marks the big climax of the play but many complications follow and interest is well sustained until the end when smiles of happiness creep through the haze of tears.

A splendid cast supports Miss Frederick. Clyde Fillmore, well known on the stage and screen, interprets the role of the husband with great skill while Edwin Stevens, Lionel Belmont, Lawson Butt, Jack Richardson, Evelyn McCoy and others also appear.

BURIED PIRATE GOLD REPORTED FOUND; PEOPLE IN FUROR

New Orleans, Sept. 13.—Part of the

supposed buried treasure of Jean Lafitte, the pirate, has been found in the vicinity of Jefferson island, the home of the late Joseph Jefferson, and excitement in that neighborhood is at fever pitch, according to reports from the south Louisiana coast.

Evidence of the treasure is furnished by several gold coins of ancient date which have recently found their way into circulation on the island, two of them being of 1754 date. According to reports, two pots of buried gold were found, but such a furor was caused when the gold appeared that the treasure finders have been silent on the discovery.

According to legends handed down from generation to generation, large sums were buried in the neighborhood by Lafitte, who preyed on gulf and river shipping in the 18th century.

DISCUSS GRADING, LOADING

Railroads Co-operating with Department by Placing Cars on Tracks for Demonstrations

On account of the losses occasioned in shipment through improper grading and loading of produce, especially of potatoes, the State Department of Agriculture has called the following meetings in September:

The session laws of 1921 give to the Department of Agriculture broad powers regarding inspection of produce, and it desires to inform all shippers as definitely as possible of the services it can render them. The proper grading, loading and handling of produce, especially potatoes, will be taken up at these meetings.

The State Department of Agriculture party consists of Hugh J. Hughes, Director of Markets, Geo. Wicker, Auditor in the Department, S. D. Watson, potato and produce inspector, and Prof. Paul Miller of the University of Minnesota, also representatives of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and of the Minnesota Potato Exchange.

The railroads are cooperating with the State Department of Agriculture by placing cars on track for demonstration purposes, and the cooperation of the County Agricultural Agents and the business men in the towns where meetings are scheduled is assured.

The Department of Agriculture especially wishes to meet the business men of this section for a conference looking toward the improvement of the business relations between the country shipper and the terminal markets. EDWARDS-SWANSON

Miss Claribell Edwards of Dykeman is Bride of Anton E. Swanson

Miss Claribell Edwards of Dykeman, Minnesota became the bride of Anton E. Swanson at 10 o'clock this morning when Rev. Fred Errington officiated at their marriage in the parsonage of the First Congregational church.

Both of the young people are well and favorably known in this city. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gust Swanson, 901 South 6th street. He was born in Brainerd and has been here all his life with the exception of the period of his army service which took him to the training camp and later to France. Mr. Swanson has been employed by the Brainerd Daily and Weekly Dispatch management for the past 10 years and is respected by his associates in the composing room. Through his membership in the Elks and Knights of Pythias orders he is well known to the men of the city.

The bride who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Edwards of Dykeman, Minnesota, has been in Brainerd some years and her genial and happy disposition has won for her many friends among the young people of the city.

The young couple were attended by the brother of the groom, Oscar W. Swanson, and Miss Theo Mathilda Jarboe. The bride was attractively dressed in a blue tricotone suit and carried a bouquet of red roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid wore a blue tricotone suit and carried a bouquet of peach roses.

The young couple left today for Minneapolis and Duluth where they will spend their honeymoon after which, upon their return to this city, they will be at home at 720 South Fifth street after October 1st.

The officiating clergyman expressed his appreciation of the bridegroom to the Dispatch in the offices of which while acting as a substitute on the paper, the minister met the man whom he this morning married, while the young husband operated the type-setting machine.

This is a benefit show for the local post of the American Legion which is out to raise funds to entertain the ex-soldiers of the Sixth Minnesota district, who come here for their convention on Sept. 25 and 26.

The title of the picture is suggestive and those who like action will see it in this picture. 1000 tickets are now on sale and the convention committee invites the cooperation of the men of the local post and citizens generally in forwarding the sale of these tickets. The more tickets the Legion men sell the greater will be the proportion of income from the show.

convention committee is convinced that the tickets will go like "wild-fire."

LACK OF EDUCATION, TOO MUCH MONEY, ARE CAUSE OF ARBUCKLE'S DOWNFALL, HIS STEPMOTHER TELLS

San Jose, Calif., Sept. 14.—In a humble dwelling, isolated on the outskirts of Santa Clara, where she lives with her two blind daughters, Mrs. Mollie Arbuckle, stepmother of Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle, film comedian, bespoke her pity for her stepson's misfortune.

Lack of education, abuse of a drunken father and "too much money" were blamed by Mrs. Arbuckle for the predicament in which her stepson finds himself today.

Mrs. Arbuckle wept as she narrated her story of married life with William G. Arbuckle, her husband, who died last November, and the connection she has had with Roscoe Arbuckle and the other Arbuckle children.

Aged Woman Takes in Washing
The stepmother of the accused comedian is not in good health and she is advanced in years, yet she still takes in washing "from the best families in Santa Clara," in order to provide for her two blind daughters and herself.

Clyde Arbuckle, her 15-year-old son by Roscoe Arbuckle's father; Arthur Arbuckle of San Francisco, and Harry Arbuckle of Fresno, the last two named brothers of Roscoe, have done "all that they could" for Mrs. Mollie Arbuckle.

Roscoe Arbuckle, whose wealth, accumulated through his triumphs in the motion picture world, is written in seven figures, has never given a penny toward the support of his stepmother, his two blind stepsisters, Lena and Stella Gordon, or his stepbrother, Clyde.

Mrs. Arbuckle admitted this in a little shack she calls her home and which, in spite of its crudity, is cleanliness personified.

But she admitted it with the keenest reluctance and with an immediate rush to the defence of the film star, who, she claimed, has "never owed her anything."

"Never Expected Anything"

"I have never expected anything from Roscoe," Mrs. Arbuckle told a reporter. "And I have never asked him for anything. No one in the world has gloried more in his success than I have and it has pleased me so much to know that he has succeeded. I took his mother's place and I cared for him for three years, paying the rent and buying his food when his father was doing nothing, but I never figured that his own mother would ask anything of him, so why should I?"

Mrs. Arbuckle declares that only once in her life has she felt hurt at the actions of "Fatty" Arbuckle, that time being on the occasion three years ago when the film star published a statement in a local paper to the effect that he had "never eaten a meal at the home of Mollie Arbuckle."

The statement was made, Mrs. Arbuckle declares, after Roscoe had been publicly attacked because he did not help his stepmother and her children.

"Roscoe is nothing to me," were Mrs. Arbuckle's last words today, "and so I have expected nothing. He was unfortunate, poor boy, and now his money has been his downfall. If he is guilty he must pay."

5,000 Veterans Victims Of White Plague

(By United Press.)

Columbus, O., Sept. 13.—The ninth annual conference of the Mississippi Tuberculosis Society opened here today with delegations from eleven mid-western states in attendance.

The convention in its three day session here will take up the question of relief for tubercular ex-soldiers. There are more than 5,000 of these in public sanitariums, and the American Legion, seeking rehabilitation, hospitalization and compensation for them, will participate actively in the conference.

Speakers scheduled to address the gathering included Dr. Walter McNabb Miller, St. Louis, Mo., president of the society; Dr. Allen K. Krause, director of the Dows foundation for tubercular research of the Johns Hopkins University; Dr. James Alexander Miller, president of the National Tuberculosis Society, and Dr. Haven Emerson, medical advisor for the war risk bureau.

Dr. H. H. Snively, state director of health, has called a meeting of all health commissioners of the Ohio Health Association, to convene in conjunction with the conference.

The program for the tubercular conference today included addresses of welcome by Governor Davis and Mayor Thomas, of Columbus, and responses by Mrs. Samuel L. Block, president of the Columbus Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, and Dr. Miller, chairman of the convention. Clinical demonstrations, sectional luncheons, and the first general meeting of the conference will conclude activities for today.

Tomorrow the sanitarium delegations will go to the state sanitarium at Mt. Vernon, where 52 per cent. of last year's patients were returned to working capacity.

CONQUER AFRICA BY AIRPLANE IS ITALY'S SCHEME

(By United Press.)

Rome. (By Mail.)—Just as the railway proved the great advance guard of civilization for the entire western portion of the United States, so must the airplane become the great advance guard of Africa.

Convinced of the truth of this, the Italian Ministry of Colonies as well as those of the War and Navy, are making an ever-increasing use of aviation in the development of Italy's African colonies. The same is being done equally by France and Spain in the development of Morocco, Tunis and other African possessions.

Italy's Dark Continent colonies include Tripoli and Cyrenaica in the northern part, with a Mediterranean coast line and Italian Somaliland and Erythra on the eastern coast.

In the opinion of Italian colonial experts, decades must elapse before Africa can be opened up to any extensive railway development. Deserts, hostile tribes and other native obstacles stand in the way of any quick advance on the railway.

On the other hand, Italy is convinced that a great deal of the handicap entailed in the use of caravans, waterways and other existing means of communications can be greatly offset by airplane service.

One of the newest colonial airplanes to be established by Italy is between Tripoli and Homs. To the residents of the latter place, a week's time is saved in communications with both Italy and Tripoli. The distance of 100 kilometers between the two cities is covered in anywhere from half an hour to three hours, according to the weather, and the return trips are made after a stop of three hours.

An extensive use of the airplane is also being made in Erythra, where the Duke of Abruzzi is now developing the colony from an agricultural and other standpoint.

Sure Relief

ENTER FOOTBALL TO WIND UP BIG SPORTING YEAR

BY HENRY L. FARRELL

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
New York, Sept. 13.—After hiding behind the skirts of baseball, tennis and late-season golf, football soon will step out as the finale of 1921 sport.

The coming season should be the biggest and best in the history of the game. There are more ambitious schedules in the east, west and south, there are more intersectional games that may go to award a national championship and there are prospects of better technical football.

The schedule contains more intersectional games of importance than have ever been played. Perhaps the headliner is the Princeton-Chicago game, at Princeton, October 22, which marks the opening of relations between these two great universities.

Other important intersectional are North Carolina and Yale, Indiana and Harvard, Penn State and Harvard, Centre and Harvard, Virginia and Princeton, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh, Nebraska and Pittsburgh, Georgia Tech and Penn State, Georgia Tech and Rutgers, Tennessee and Dartmouth, Notre Dame and the Army, Western Reserve and the Navy, and Virginia Military Institute and Pennsylvania.

For the first time, the West Point Cadets will journey away from the plains to meet an opponent other than the Navy. The Cadets go to New Haven on October 22, to meet Yale. The Naval Academy, which started the more open policy last year, will also journey away to Philadelphia for a game with Penn State.

Yale has a typical Yale schedule again this year, getting away from the annual monotony only by the game with the Army. Harvard, however, has gone in for a harder schedule, meeting on successive Saturdays Holy Cross, Indiana, Georgia, Penn State, Centre, Princeton, Brown and Yale.

Princeton has five hard games in a row with Navy, Chicago, Virginia, Harvard and Yale. Pennsylvania has what looks to be easy picking. Penn State has no soft assignment with Lehigh, Harvard, Georgia Tech, Navy and Pittsburgh.

Ohio State will have no easy climb to another title in the Western Conference. Coach Wilce's men have a hard schedule with Minnesota, Michigan, Chicago, Purdue and Illinois. Illinois has an imposing list of opponents, including Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Chicago and Ohio State. Wisconsin has Northwestern, Illinois, Minnesota, Michigan and Chicago, while Michigan has Michigan Aggies, Ohio State, Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Notre Dame has eleven games booked with Kalamazoo, DePauw, Iowa, Purdue, Nebraska, Indiana, Army, Haskell Institute, Marquette, Michigan Aggies and Rutgers.

California can well claim the Coast championship if the eleven goes thru without defeat a schedule including Nevada, Oregon, Washington State, Southern California, Washington and Stanford.

The game with Harvard is the most impressive event of the Centre schedule, and Virginia Military Institute, which blazed a way down the 1920 lines, hardly can claim a championship on the schedule arranged.

HOUSEWORK IS A BURDEN

Woman's lot is a weary one at best. But with backache and other distressing kidney ills it indeed becomes a burden. Doan's Kidney Pills have made life brighter for many Brainerd women. Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. W. H. Everest, 507 7th St. S., Brainerd, says: "I had terrible pains in my back that fairly made me sick to my stomach. If I exerted, by back became sore and lame and it was hard to do housework. My kidneys didn't act as they should and as Doan's Kidney Pills had been used in the family with good results, I started taking them. A few Doan's bought at Johnson's Drug Store soon gave me relief."

The above statement was given November 13, 1917, and on August 19, 1921, Mrs. Everest added: "Doan's Kidney Pills are a good kidney remedy for they cured me of a case of kidney trouble and of late years I have no need of a kidney medicine. I am glad to confirm my former statement."

On the other hand, Italy is convinced that a great deal of the handicap entailed in the use of caravans, waterways and other existing means of communications can be greatly offset by airplane service.

One of the newest colonial airplanes to be established by Italy is between Tripoli and Homs. To the residents of the latter place, a week's time is saved in communications with both Italy and Tripoli. The distance of 100 kilometers between the two cities is covered in anywhere from half an hour to three hours, according to the weather, and the return trips are made after a stop of three hours.

An extensive use of the airplane is also being made in Erythra, where the Duke of Abruzzi is now developing the colony from an agricultural and other standpoint.

ENTER FOOTBALL TO WIND UP BIG SPORTING YEAR

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
New York, Sept. 13.—After hiding behind the skirts of baseball, tennis and late-season golf, football soon will step out as the finale of 1921 sport.

The coming season should be the biggest and best in the history of the game. There are more ambitious schedules in the east, west and south, there are more intercollegiate games that may go to award a national championship and there are prospects of better technical football.

The schedule contains more intercollegiate games of importance than have ever been played. Perhaps the headliner is the Princeton-Chicago game, at Princeton, October 22, which marks the opening of relations between these two great universities.

Other important intercollegiate are North Carolina and Yale, Indiana and Harvard, Penn State and Harvard, Centre and Harvard, Virginia and Princeton, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh, Nebraska and Pittsburgh, Georgia Tech and Penn State, Georgia Tech and Rutgers, Tennessee and Dartmouth, Notre Dame and the Army, Western Reserve and the Navy, and Virginia Military Institute and Pennsylvania.

For the first time, the West Point Cadets will journey away from the plains to meet an opponent other than the Navy. The Cadets go to New Haven on October 22, to meet Yale. The Naval Academy, which started the more open policy last year, will also journey away to Philadelphia for a game with Penn State.

Yale has a typical Yale schedule again this year, getting away from the annual monotony only by the game with the Army. Harvard, however, has gone in for a harder schedule, meeting on successive Saturdays Holy Cross, Indiana, Georgia, Penn State, Centre, Princeton, Brown and Yale.

Princeton has five hard games in a row with Navy, Chicago, Virginia, Harvard and Yale. Pennsylvania has what looks to be easy picking. Penn State has no soft assignment with Lehigh, Harvard, Georgia Tech, Navy and Pittsburgh.

Ohio State will have no easy climb to another title in the Western Conference. Coach Wilce's men have a hard schedule with Minnesota, Michigan, Chicago, Purdue and Illinois.

Illinois has an imposing list of opponents, including Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Chicago and Ohio State. Wisconsin has Northwestern, Illinois, Minnesota, Michigan and Chicago, while Michigan has Michigan Aggies, Ohio State, Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Notre Dame has eleven games booked with Kalamazoo, DePaul, Iowa, Purdue, Nebraska, Indiana, Army, Haskell Institute, Marquette, Michigan Aggies and Rutgers.

California can well claim the Coast championship if the eleven goes thru without defeat a schedule including Nevada, Oregon, Washington State, Southern California, Washington and Stanford.

The game with Harvard is the most impressive event of the Centre schedule, and Virginia Military Institute, which blazed a way down the 1920 lines, hardly can claim a championship on the schedule arranged

HOUSEWORK IS A BURDEN

Woman's lot is a weary one at best. But with backache and other distressing kidney ills life indeed becomes a burden. Doan's Kidney Pills have made life brighter for many Brainerd women. Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. W. H. Everest, 807 7th St. S., Brainerd, says: "I had terrible pains in my back that fairly made me sick to my stomach. If I exerted, by back became sore and lame and it was hard to do housework. My kidneys didn't act as they should and as Doan's Kidney Pills had been used in the family with good results, I started taking them. A few Doan's bought at Johnson's Drug Store soon gave me relief."

The above statement was given November 13, 1917, and on August 19, 1921, Mrs. Everest added: "Doan's Kidney Pills are a good kidney remedy for they cured me of a case of kidney trouble and of late years I have no need of a kidney medicine. I am glad to confirm my former statement."

And remember this! Camels come in one size package only—20 cigarettes—just the right size to make the greatest saving in production and packing. This saving goes straight into Camel Quality. That's one reason why you can get Camel Quality at so moderate a price.

Here's another. We put no useless frills on the Camel package. No "extra wrappers!" Nothing just for show!

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And their added cost must go onto the price or come out of the quality.

One thing, and only one, is responsible for Camels great and growing popularity—that is CAMEL QUALITY.
